Hi Pete and George

Happy to help, hope below is adequate if you need more let me know.

To whom it may concern

Dear Sir

As a supporter of the Grantown Remakery I would like to recommend that they receive any available funding.

The Remakery has become a very important part of Grantown high street which needs as many quality sites as possible. As a result of its popularity the Remakery is very short of space and needs room to expand.

The Remakery supports many people, particularly those with special needs and helps introduce young people to a normal working environment who might otherwise find it very difficult to lead a normal life. It is also an important hub for local people.

Any funding would, I am sure, be most welcome and I cannot recommend more strongly this very worthy cause.

Yours truly

Fergus Laing.

To Whom It May Concern,

We at The Candy Coo believe that The Grantown Remakery is a fantastic addition to our high street. We think it is an initiative that should be on every high street, everywhere, encouraging all of us to live more sustainable lives.

It is wonderful on so many levels. Not only is it a valued part of our local high street, but it also encourages people to recycle, repair, donate, and volunteer. It brings our community together while helping to reduce waste and promote environmental responsibility.

We have seen the positive impact The Grantown Remakery has on the people who work and volunteer there. They seem to grow in confidence, and it is inspiring to see the pride and sense of purpose they gain. The social aspect is equally important, as it gives people a welcoming place to connect with others and spend time together away from their phones.

The Grantown Remakery is a real asset to our community and continues to make a positive difference to so many people. We wholeheartedly support the wonderful work it does and hope it continues to thrive for many years to come.

Yours sincerely,

Lorna McIntosh & Leanne Sargent

No

Can't think of one.

Specific for bringing in repairs. I.e. electrics, small ornaments, furniture. We worry about overloading with requests.

You are nailing it!

Is there anything else you would like to tell us?
